
G. MCCLENNAN
UNTITLED (SEQUENCE)

George William McClennan

was born in 1989 .

He started taking pictures in his teens, using old analog cameras handed down by his parents. After high school he completed his mandatory civil service in Freiburg, and then moved to Berlin to study architecture. He continued to take pictures, did some minor painting, played music, and worked briefly in the service industry.In the late 2010s, he returned to Frankfurt, where he studied American Studies and English Studies, and made small forays into the periphery of architecture and art education. Since the early 2020s, he spends most of his time taking pictures and occasionally painting onto things. This is his first show for the public.

fom.de

721

P PARKHAUS
GALLUS-WARTE
öffentlich

Keine Wendemöglichkeit

George William McClennan

was born in 1989 [illegible] He started taking pictures in his teens, using old analog cameras handed down by his parents. After high school he completed his mandatory civil service in Freiburg, and then moved to Berlin to study architecture. He continued to take pictures, did some minor painting, played music, and worked briefly in the service industry.In the late 2010s, he returned to Frankfurt, where he studied American Studies and English Studies, and made small forays into the periphery of architecture and art education. Since the early 2020s, he spends most of his time taking pictures and occasionally painting onto things. This is his first show for the public.